“ONE OF THE BEST PARTS OF MY JOB IS LEARNING THAT READERS ARE SAVING PAGES FROM THE MAGAZINE TO SHOW THEIR ARCHITECTS AND INTERIOR DESIGNERS.”
